

I am opposed to any group being added to the current no-call list. If anything, I would like some of the current exceptions now on the list removed. No call should mean NO CALL!